300 years of Freemasonry

- On 24th June 1717, four Lodges met together to form the world's first Grand Lodge
- From that day on, Freemasonry spread over the world to become one of the world's foremost non-religious and non-political fraternal and charitable organisations

United Grand Lodge of England will celebrate
300 years of Freemasonry
throughout 2017

The Pro. Grand Master

“We are proud to be Freemasons and 2017 is a great opportunity to show that pride not only to our families and friends, but to the non-Masonic community as well.”

"Celebrating 300 years is a once in a lifetime event for us all, as is appropriately marking this wonderful achievement and, of course, being the first Grand Lodge to do so."

This is not a fund raising exercise.

IT'S A CELEBRATION!

A Year of Charitable Donations

During 2017, we will celebrate 300 years by making donations to non-masonic charities throughout the Province of Northumberland

DREAMS COME TRUE
Masons' gift funds brave boy's Disney trip

EWAN Barry is going to Disneyland!
The 10-year-old is off on the trip of a lifetime after a kind donation.

Ewan, of Lindisfarne Road, Darlington, has a rare condition called a life-threatening epilepsy which attacks every minute in the body and that leaves doctors in looking for a cure. The boy, who lives in the Northumbria Masonic Centre, is a member of the Freemasons' Grand Lodge of Northumberland. Ewan's father, Brian, is a member of the lodge and has been instrumental in raising the money for the trip. Ewan's mother, Lisa, is a member of the lodge and has been instrumental in raising the money for the trip. Ewan's father, Brian, is a member of the lodge and has been instrumental in raising the money for the trip. Ewan's mother, Lisa, is a member of the lodge and has been instrumental in raising the money for the trip.

GREAT SURPRISE — Ewan Barry, who has a life-threatening epilepsy, was surprised when he was told he was going to Disneyland. The boy, who lives in the Northumbria Masonic Centre, is a member of the Freemasons' Grand Lodge of Northumberland. Ewan's father, Brian, is a member of the lodge and has been instrumental in raising the money for the trip. Ewan's mother, Lisa, is a member of the lodge and has been instrumental in raising the money for the trip.

Glendale Masons make £1,000 donation

Lowick Football Club and community bus has received £1,000 from the Heart of Glendale 4005 on behalf of the Richard Henry Holmes Masonic Benevolent Fund.

Present at the cheque presentation from Heart of Glendale 4005 was Worshipful Master Paul Cassidy and Charity Steward Ewan Darven Curry. Representing Lowick Football Club were Club Secretary Bill Blythe and John Fairbairn and some members of the ladies and juniors teams. Representing Tilside Cricket Club was Alan Hindmarsh and his two sons, Ross and Liam.

Lowick Football Club would like to thank Alan Fairbairn for making the initial contact with Heart of Glendale 4005 and assisting in the funding application. Alan's father was a member of Heart of Glendale 4005 and a Grand Lodge Officer, and his brother Andy is a Director of Ceremonies for Heart of Glendale 4005, so this continues the long family connection with Freemasonry in Northumberland.
